The Lack of Unity

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-5, 15-16, 19-21, and 25-28, is drawn to quaternary ammonium compounds.

Group II, claims 7-11, is drawn to a process for preparing the multiple functional quaternary ammonium compounds.

Group III, claims 12-14, is drawn to a process for preparing the multiple functional hydrophilic/hydrophobic compounds obtained from the reaction of an amine with a dicarboxylic acid.

Group IV, claims 17-18, is drawn to a viscosity modifying agent .

Group V, claims 22-24, is drawn to an ore flotation aid.

Group VI, claims 6 and 29-32, is drawn to a surfactant composition .

Art Unit: 1625

I. The inventions listed as Groups do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

the international application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (" requirement of unity of invention ").

PCT Rule 13.2 states " Where a group of inventions is claimed in one and the same international application, the requirement of unity of invention referred to in Rule 13.1 shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression " special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

In the instant case, the invention of Group I is directed to the quaternary ammonium compounds, whereas the invention of Group IV is directed to the viscosity modifying agent. Both may have a common core of the quaternary ammonium compounds. However, according to Lynch (U.S. 5,023,289), the alkylthioalkanoic acids act as a viscosity modifying agent devoid of any presence of the quaternary ammonium compounds. From this, Group I is not the special technical feature required in making the a viscosity modifying agent . There is no single general inventive concept and no unity of invention for the method or the process as defined in 37 CFR 1.475.

37 CFR 1.475 states that a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combination of categories:

- a. A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product;
or
- b. A product and a process of use of said product; or
- c. A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or
- d. A process and an apparatus or means specially designed for carrying out the said process; or
- e. A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specially designed for carrying out the said process.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1625

II. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(l).
